

YOUR LOGOTHERAPY STUDY GUIDE

Win your well earned Logotherapy graduate degree without interrupting your career, relocating your family, sacrificing your finances or gambling yours on winning at graduate school roulette -- with our world class online programs. When you complete the work, you do indeed receive this honor!

The DeVille Logotherapy Learning Center

Logotherapy (Spirit-Wellness) is the synthesis of existential psychology and metaphysical philosophy that is pleasurable, powerful and permanent enough to sustain your life along lines of excellence in good times and bad.

Logotherapy For Fulfillment

@All Rights Reserved DeVille Logotherapy Learning Center

Congratulations!

You have wisely chosen to earn your pragmatic online graduate degree in the art and science of Frankl/DeVille Logotherapy. This is our terminal program of five majors, eighteen mega-courses and over four score existential psychology classics from many world class scholars from whose work you can develop your own MS or PhD program according to your personal interests and needs. Completing your individualized course of study from this cornucopia of world class knowledge leads to professional wisdom enough to serve society extremely well within an established organization or from your own private practice – through the physical, psychological and philosophical aspects of life. And although existence has many challenges, the fact remains constant that society still rewards most the persons who serve it best. Your professional Logotherapy expertise shall be verified by your well earned diploma, transcripts, letters of commendation and professional certification but even more so by the intellectual and emotional firepower you shall carry into your love, labor and leadership that empowers you to counsel, lecture, coach and write professionally for the rest of your life.

We welcome you to your life's journey with us in Logotherapy. We are always available and please don't hesitate to contact us.

Warmly,

Jard DeVille

BEYOND TRADITIONAL GRADUATE PROGRAMS

We of The DeVille Logotherapy Learning Center have focused on meeting 21st Century human needs by development of the DeVille Logotherapy Learning Center to train excellent Logotherapy or soul health and empowerment practitioners who serve society significantly by synthesizing existential psychology and metaphysical philosophy to make life personally meaningful and communally supportive for themselves and their families, clients and organizations.

To help you develop your own life empowering career, we have spent literally decades in the researching and refining of Franklian Logotherapy -- along with learning potent concepts, counseling and coaching others to win personal significance and by interpreting the crucial constructs that appear in our DeVILLE LOGOTHERAPY LEARNING CENTER'S Core Curriculum that you shall find on page nineteen of this study guide. As you have probably learned from our website -- you have received or shall download your free introductory online course called YOUR SEARCH FOR A MEANINGFUL LIFE. This Learning Center guide also applies while reading Viktor Frankl's great collateral primer called MAN'S SEARCH FOR MEANING. Viktor's excellent Logotherapy book has been used by tens of millions of men and women in more than thirty languages in what we DeVilles also call a Spirit Wellness approach. Frankl's Logotherapy accomplished several crucial things for our society through the past two generations.

FIRST – The United States Library Of Congress rated Frankl's MAN'S SEARCH FOR MEANING as one of the ten most influential books ever published in human commerce. Logotherapy was developed by Viktor during the horrors of the Holocaust and World War II, in order to focus on finding personal meaning for human lives from the mid to late twentieth century. Then, currently, we of the DEVILLE LOGOTHERAPY LEARNING CENTER have adapted and interpreted Frankl's superb constructs to organize sound communities of good persons with whom we share faith, hope and love while meeting our more and more complex twenty-first century needs.

Our complementary introductory course -- YOUR SEARCH FOR A MEANINGFUL LIFE -- is the most complete presentation of Logotherapy created since Frankl's volumes MAN'S SEARCH FOR MEANING, THE UNCONSCIOUS GOD and THE DOCTOR AND THE SOUL appeared in the mid-nineteen fifties. And while an author will occasionally produce a single book based on Logotherapy, Professor DeVille and his staff have published twenty hard copy and ebook volumes. Eighteen of them make up the core curriculum found on page nineteen. Our development of communal belonging as a sound construct with Viktor's personal meaning leads to the life enhancing existential equation of Logotherapy as a soul health multiplier --

LOGOTHERAPY (Spirit Wellness) = f (Personal Meaning x Communal Belonging)

We do move along through Logotherapy -- for as Viktor said of himself and his mentor and pen pal – Sigmund Freud -- so we say --

A dwarf riding on a giant's shoulders can sometimes see further along the trail than the giant can!

We have continued building on Viktor's firm foundation although existential psychology, metaphysical philosophy and several of our contributing disciplines such as anthropology, sociology and biology have matured considerably over the last half-century. We have accounted for these continuing developments.

SECOND – Almost every college student and most social and behavioral science professors of the middle to late twentieth century, learned much about living wisely and well from Viktor's volume MAN'S SEARCH FOR MEANING. Then, his sound Logotherapy attitudes and activities helped motivate the deeply committed men and women that news anchor Tom Brokaw called America's Greatest Generation. Those bold souls formed the dedicated society that ended the Great Depression, defeated the vicious Fascists in Europe and Asia during World War II, turned several violent nations into democracies, created the labor unions that built the affluent middle class, brought gender and racial equality to our sexist and racist rural regions and educated a generation of college students who contributed so much to so many souls. They salted America in its best days with Frankl's Logotherapy even when they didn't know the term. Even today elderly women and men still recall with great satisfaction the victories they won and the sense of purpose and fulfillment they experienced during the great days of existential freedom when they were creating an affluent and generous America and saving the world from fascism. For example, a retired biology professor recently told us –

I went into the University of Tennessee as an anxious Hill Billy girl who had never spoken on a telephone or typed a letter and emerged a cool Mountain William PhD.

This leads to our second existential equation of Logotherapy.

SPIRIT WELLNESS (Logotherapy) = f (Existential Psychology x Metaphysical Philosophy)

THIRD – Logotherapy, keeps our focus on human subjectively and spirituality for committed scholars who have a maturing mind-set and high expectations. We are neither a college nor a university that has a wide selection of academic disciplines. We are a well focused computerized, pragmatic learning center that offers only terminal Logotherapy master's and doctoral programs for professional persons in situations where spiritual values or ethical virtues, positive attitudes, high expectations, mature beliefs and responsible choices virtually assure one's own satisfaction. We do only Logotherapy but we do it extraordinary well for the preparation of ambitious men and women to create a good life with superb careers within public and private organizations of various kinds or to develop their own private practices in which they write meaningfully, lead, lecture and counsel or coach others.

Our intense focus on a single life-enhancing discipline separates us from traditional college communities and confuses scholars who apparently want many full, associate and assistant professors standing before students or doing research and winning financial grants. We of the Logotherapy Learning Center don't fit into any of the traditional academic niches, because our online approach has transcended traditional learning.

Lecturing as a means of transmitting knowledge was needed in medieval schools when colleges were first organized -- because the few handwritten books were much too valuable to be entrusted to grubby students. Therefore, the professor would read the text at night by candlelight and then the next day tell a few students what he had learned. We should not think that those handwritten manuscripts were naïve and bigoted about the human condition but they were not. The ancient scholars like Socrates, Aristotle and more ancient Greeks, Persians, and Romans filled several great libraries like the one in Alexandria with much knowledge and wisdom. The main problem was that it could take a year to laboriously copy a great book and then only one tenth of one percent of the people could study it. And while after Gutenberg it might take a month or two to typeset a book, a thousand or more copies could be sold across the land. We would have thought the invention of printing would have ended the awkward lecture approach but apparently it hasn't. But, we have bypassed it – have indeed created a superb Core Curriculum of a million and one third words in eighteen full size volumes that fits very nicely into a thumb drive. And we have in the last two or three decades of the information revolution made even greater strides with our ebooks.

Our YOUR SEARCH FOR A MEANINGFUL LIFE course of some eighty thousand words, is the most complete study course about personal meaning in places of the heart where we belong among good souls since Frankl's great books appeared. And it can become your gateway to great knowledge and wisdom. We hope that in the next decade or two more and more colleges will use our approach to computerized learning or Existential -- Basic, Orderly, Organized Knowledge (EBOOK) shall find ways to offer cutting edge learning centers like our own.

The Logotherapy Learning Center has neither a football team nor an Olympic swimming pool. We sponsor no Freshman mixer sock hops and have no boisterous fraternity keg parties. We do not lecture two hundred sophomores in Introductory Psychology at 7:30am three days a week as we did for years at several colleges. We don't have a stately ivy covered red brick Old Main Hall from the 1880s. We didn't even hire a resident faculty for the Central Accrediting Association or the Distance Education Council to interview. And alas -- we have no multimillion dollar trust fund. We do, however, have an independent online professional career school in a remarkable new lifestyle discipline of great worth.

What we do have is our eighteen course pure, unadulterated Logotherapy megacourse Core Curriculum in five online self-study majors that are so valuable that some of them were first published internationally by fine book houses like William Morrow, New American Library, Farnsworth, Baker Books and Word -- plus several foreign publishers. More of our eighteen Core programs have been taught as short courses for Universities like Arizona, Alaska, Wisconsin, Purdue and others -- while we also trained managers and executives in Logotherapy Leadership from such corporations as Ford Motors, 3M, Honeywell, Cargill, Digital and a hundred more. Obviously, Frankl/DeVille Logotherapy as we interpret it -- is a world class approach for winning meaning and focusing one's career wisely and well in good places where life is satisfying.

You really must Google the names Viktor Frankl and Jard DeVille with the term Logotherapy to get a better understanding of spirit wellness or soul health and what we are all about.

Since we are not a university graduate school with many hurdles and foibles and a fixation on petty animal research – we focus entirely on the education of pragmatic Logotherapy professionals who work with and through persons. The surest way to be denied candidacy or tenure in almost any graduate school is to become a brilliant teacher or counselor whom the students admire. The climate truly is publish your research or perish academically. Research to win financial grants for the department always takes precedence over teaching or counseling on an eighty/ twenty ratio – while we DeVilles reverse that order as we continue writing and supplying major learning opportunities to our scholars.

You should know that most university psychology courses are taught by graduate assistants just a year or two ahead of their students. Also, it is almost as hard to reorganize a university with its colliding vested interests -- as it is to revive a cemetery. For example the University of Minnesota has been struggling to bring a Technical Library under the auspices of the University Information Center – for twenty years now! And those faculty stars whose reputations are cited to recruit graduate students -- are so busy writing and winning tenure and struggling for grants that they complain about having to teach one classroom course every two or three years. Moreover -- most graduate psychology schools are hotbeds of faculty squabbles over grants and tenure and cut-throat student competition for survival at each successively higher hurdle they must face at regular intervals. More than a few graduate students have gotten halfway through a degree program only to have his committee chairman depart for greener pastures and leave his candidates stranded midstream. Other students have been doing well until after two or more years of effort, some frustrated member of the faculty dislikes their work. All it takes is one negative graduate committee vote to end a blossoming academic career.

Graduate departments are especially painful and difficult for successful, self-directing adults who return for higher degrees. In the first place, competent adults are suspect because they often ask too many pointed questions and even dare to challenge long standing traditions and ideologies. Most mature scholars are admitted only because legal statutes and most grants forbid age discrimination. Even so – every new graduate student, regardless of his or her previous career achievements, begins as the lowest grunt on the totem pole who fetches the department's wood and draws the water. Even worse – many a student has had his or her dissertation research appear in a journal under a committee member's name with never a hint that a student did the actual research. Someone has said that the faculty fights are so ferocious because the rewards are so low. Even the brilliant Dugald Arbuckle quipped to Professor DeVille when they were lecturing at the Dyslexic Clinic conjoined with the University of Wisconsin, that he -- a decorated Royal Canadian Air Force veteran, leading existential author, and Counseling Chairman at Boston University could not have tolerated the way most psychology graduate schools misuse their students today. Much curiosity and the boldness that creates great research and teaching excellence is beat out of the youngsters in the current ideological lords and laborers behavioral system. Dugald also said that the best research papers he has ever written remain in his bottom desk drawer because the editors of the journals prefer flashy potboiler junk. He proudly proclaims --

I am no rat psychologist!

And then too – a doctorate from Harvard, Northwestern, Stanford or Southern Methodist can set you back fifty to seventy thousand dollars. Even an online run of the mill MBA from an unremarkable Nebraska school recently cost a professional associate of ours more than twenty thousand dollars. These costs occur at a time when there is virtually no faculty movement in colleges and universities for positions to open. Betting several years of one's life on a traditional campus graduate degree in law, management, teaching or government services can be fraught with disappointment and disastrous debt when there are scores of applicants for every decent job and many graduate scholars end up driving taxicabs, waiting tables or working in nursing homes in order to stay afloat financially. It's better you should study with us!

We of the Logotherapy Learning Center have avoided all of that graduate school uncertainty. To spell it out – we have a total fixed cost of twenty-five hundred dollars for the masters and thirty-five hundred dollars for the doctorate, discounts are available if you have financial concerns. And even that is payable in monthly amounts. When you work at your major and its core courses with world class collateral volumes with us, no one complicates your efforts with extraneous or irrelevant demands. You study what you deem best. And you can change majors and courses in mid-stream without any penalty it that seems best for yourself. You compete only with yourself. You set your own deadlines at your pace and in your own space. And while the work will make you sweat and sometimes seem to draw blood – Logotherapy is filled with fascinating knowledge and wisdom from the beginning for every intelligent man or woman who has an iota of interest in understanding and benefiting from studying and managing the human condition.

You can see our quality of knowledge for yourself by perusing your free downloaded copy of our introductory course – YOUR SEARCH FOR A MEANINGFUL LIFE.

And should you have trouble getting started or while along the way, your academic Don will coach you until you get it right. Complete the work and there are no disappointments. You shall be awarded your well earned degree that has real firepower for careers in public or private organizations or through lecturing, conducting seminars, counseling and blog writing in one's private practice. Because we are neither training psychologists nor social workers, we do no psychotherapy and offer no psychotropic drugs for mood changing experiences. Our excellent teaching/learning approach draws from Frankl's thirty-four books and our own twenty volumes – eighteen of which have been rewritten into our online self-study mega-courses within the five majors all of which can be seen in this guide. Our approach enables you to master Logotherapy in the sound Alvin Toffler fashion –

Learn How To Learn When You Need Valid Knowledge --

Learn How To Choose Wisely For Yourself And Family –

Learn How To Relate Well To All Kinds Of Persons –

We not only train graduate students with the best from Logotherapy as reported in our combined Frankl/DeVilleville books, we also have you enter the fascinating minds of more than a of score world class scholars such as Soren Kierkegaard, Sigmund Freud, Anna Freud, Alfred Adler, Karen Horney, Otto Rank, Laura Perle, Betty Fridan, Carl Rogers, Abraham Maslow, Muriel James, Dugald Arbuckle and many more through their world class constructs about love, labor and leadership in the physical, psychological and philosophical aspects of life.

Because of our deeply professional focus on Logotherapy and its applications -- we cannot accept transfer credits from other graduate programs. To accept graduate credits from other schools of psychology into our MS and PhD degree programs would dilute our content and be detrimental to our students' Logotherapy training. This restriction should come as no great surprise. We know of no graduate school in psychology that allows a student to begin his or her graduate work at one school and then transfers those credits toward its own degrees. Students must do all of their study at the graduate school granting the degree and we are comfortable with that near universal principle. We encourage our potential scholars to choose their goals carefully – because we want you to graduate from the Logotherapy Learning Center with a vast body of knowledge and great wisdom about human meaning in places where they belong in faith, hope and love.

We recommend very strongly that you work through enough of YOUR SEARCH FOR A MEANINGFUL LIFE. mega-course to make a solid commitment before studying Logotherapy with us.

FIRST -- Do our five Logotherapy or Spirit Wellness majors and eighteen Core courses about a potent life motivate you enough to earn a pragmatic degree?

SECOND – Is your personal learning style compatible with our online, self-focused learning approach to love, labor and leadership?

THIRD – Do you have the determination to spend your discretionary time alone with your courses in order to reach a goal that is a year or more away?

As a single discipline online learning center that is neither a college nor a university, that doesn't accept other school's credits and transfers our own only on request from another institution -- accreditation is not an issue for us. The accreditation agencies simply are not organized to evaluate our teaching/learning approach. Their eyes glaze over when they learn we have no professors struggling for tenure, no large budgets and no ivy covered buildings. We are convinced that we can receive no greater form of approval than the way we have been so well received by literally multitudes of souls personally and via print and electronic media in two world speaking/teaching engagements that took Professor DeVille from all over the United States to Japan and China, to Australia, New Zealand, Singapore, Kuala Lumpur, the Middle East, Europe and back again. Our validation comes from –

OUR PUBLISHED BOOKS -- NICE GUYS FINISH FIRST, LOVERS FOR LIFE, THE PASTORS' HANDBOOK ON INTERPERSONAL RELATIONS, THE PSYCHOLOGY OF LEADERSHIP , etc.

SHORT LOGOTHERAPY COURSES -- For Purdue University, University of Indiana (Indianapolis), The Universities of Arizona, Wisconsin, Alaska, Nebraska (Omaha) and many smaller schools –

SEMINARS -- For managers and executives from very successful corporations like Ford Motors, Cargill, 3M, Honeywell, Intel and etc.

A THOUSAND MANAGERS -- From a hundred or more international organizations of all types, who were in Professor DeVille's Leadership Logotherapy course, rated it at a hitherto unheard of 3.68 on a four point scale at the University of Arizona in Tucson for eight consecutive years

YOU REALLY MUST GOOGLE THE NAMES Viktor Frankl and Jard DeVille and the term Logotherapy to get a better understanding of spirit wellness or soul health and what we are all about.

Actually, accreditation is a quality control mechanism for schools and for the transfer of sound credits largely from one undergraduate college to another. We offer no undergraduate work but work only toward higher Logotherapy degrees. Accreditation is also necessary in assuring graduate school faculties of the competence of incoming undergraduate scholars and to persuade employers of a graduate's likely value to the organization. Because our Learning Center courses are pragmatic rather than academic research oriented and are terminal in nature rather than transferable -- leading only to our higher Logotherapy degrees rather than as transfer credits, certification in our system is a private matter offered to each successful student. Our entries on Google and others and the world class quality of YOUR SEARCH FOR A MEANINGFUL LIFE and our core courses reveal our quality.

PLANNING YOUR WORK

1. You begin your degree programs by downloading our free introductory core mega-course, YOUR SEARCH FOR A MEANINGFUL LIFE and registering your intent to complete the first course, YOUR SEARCH FOR A MEANINGFUL LIFE without financial obligation with the Registrar via email, dee@fulfillmentforum.com or toll-free at 1-888-611-5531.

This project will become your initial LEARNING CENTER move by the simple expedient of reading the chapters, completing the embedded course work and emailing a brief three or four page response or uploading your report to your Secure SkyDrive folder which we assign to you, to the concepts you learned or a critique of the course.

Next, obtain and read Frankl's MAN'S SEARCH FOR MEANING (click the link for our Google library list) the collateral list and emailing a two or three page response to our Registrar or uploading your report to your Secure SkyDrive folder which we assign to you. MAN'S SEARCH is still in print and virtually every library on earth has copies or you can borrow this great best seller. A simple two to three page email to our Registrar shall suffice. Then you are well on your way toward a Logotherapy degree.

2. After your letter of application or intent is emailed to our Registrar or via PayPal with a fifty dollar (completely deductible) earnest fee to the LEARNING CENTER. Click the link Logotherapy Learning Center Registration and go to PayPal at the bottom of the page if you have not already done so. This is the initial monthly payment and after you submit it please call Dee toll Free at 1-888-611-5531 or email dee@fulfillmentforum.com to discuss further payment arrangements.

3. After you make financial arrangements you select and begin the core and collateral courses that follow completing our gratis YOUR SEARCH introductory course and reading Frankl's MAN'S SEARCH. Your Don will help you with your selection if you wish.

The very affordable total cost for the MS degree is two thousand dollars while the PhD degree is three thousand dollars. Either fee can be paid in two ways. A pre-payment will allow you a five hundred dollar discount if received within a month of acceptance into a program. A study group of three or more scholars will also receive a five hundred dollar discount per scholar in addition to any prepaid discounts. The tuition fees can also be paid monthly with a one or two hundred dollar deposit until the balance is paid. This usually occurs within twelve months for the MS program and eighteen months for the PhD. We charge no interest on the monthly payments and there are no additional fees. Since we believe you should have a Logotherapy Degree if you pursue the challenge and do the work, if the fees are a hardship we will lower the cost significantly. Please call Dee toll-free voicemail at 1-888-611-5531 or email at dee@fulfillmentforum.com to discuss further payment arrangements.

When you progress beyond the complementary first course -- an academic Don is assigned to assist in your study via email, chat or voicemail should that become necessary. Your future reports and communications are expedited by dealing directly with your academic adviser.

4. Your choice of one of the five majors or a composite major of five mega-courses after the introductory course for the master's and seven for the doctorate, should be appropriate to each scholar's personal or professional setting and interests. They shall be selected from our core eighteen course core curriculum -- with the right to shift to more appropriate courses without penalty if that seems best for you while pursuing your pragmatic graduate program. We find it best to download one course at a time and to complete it before downloading the next one. We make every effort to meet your academic interests and needs.

You can also examine the collateral curriculum list authors to learn something about their work by entering their names into almost any major search engine such as Google. You shall select two collateral volumes to accompany each of your five or seven elective core courses.

SHORT REPORTS

We suggest that your short three or four page core courses and two or three page collateral email reports to your Don be presented in three segments.

1. Begin by identifying the volume and the author and reporting the major theme or the material that interests or challenges you.
2. Describe the content you have chosen and tell why it was valuable or interesting to you.
3. Explain how you plan on using or avoiding the concepts in your love, labor or leadership.

THE THESIS OR DISSERTATION

You are given the choice between writing a thesis or dissertation or completing a practicum in some area of your life and work.

Should you write a report rather than doing the practicum, you shall plan for a thirty page document for the MS or a fifty page document for the PhD.

Begin by creating a document file from the beginning of your study -- with which to organize your thesis or dissertation notes with page, paragraph and sentence numbers so they can easily be relocated.

Take plenty of notes, save anything you even suspect may be useful from the content -- along with the thoughts that come to you.

When you are ready to write your major paper, you can go through your notes, separate the wheat from the chaff and organize the best material into the logical categories that pertain to your interests.

Weave the appropriate material into a document with space between each concept that captured your interest and connect them in a clear and concise manner in your own words.

Make it say something important to you for your life and career. Write everything in a businesslike manner and use a spell checker.

Remember, as one publishing house editor quipped -- "There are no great writers -- there are only great rewriters." Edit - edit - edit and always proof read the content several times because the strangest things can creep in unawares and computers do drop words and lines.

You can print your thesis or dissertation and have it bound in hard copy with gold script on the cover as an addition to your library. Submit your copy to your Don via Upload or email.

THE PRACTICUM

You can substitute a Logotherapy practicum for the thesis or the dissertation by completing some personal service during which you apply the concepts you are learning from your study courses. These could be in scouting or for nursing homes, a faith community, service clubs, school classes and etc. We have settled on twenty hours of interaction for the master's and thirty for the doctorate. For example, you could develop an hour long presentation about Logotherapy's key points, add your own anecdotes and lecture high school or college students, church education sessions or service clubs as part of the practicum. Service clubs and church classes always need weekly speakers with interesting programs. Much good exposure can be gained by discussing those things that are so important to so many persons. A brief report about your experiences shall be needed for inclusion in your permanent record.

Core courses of under one hundred pages and their collateral volumes are rated at five academic units in a master's program and at seven units in a doctoral program. Core courses over one hundred pages and their collateral volumes are rated at seven units in a MS program and at nine units for a PhD program.

We do not usually assign letter grades unless you want them but prefer working from an appropriate or a non-appropriate system that works best for committed scholars. If a report is deemed inappropriate, your Don shall guide you through a revision to make it acceptable in your successful degree quest. You are in competition for success with for no one but yourself. You master the knowledge and wisdom of Logotherapy and report it to us and you do indeed receive your well earned degree.

As with every other graduate school, we neither accept course work from other schools into our degree programs nor transfer our credits into degree programs in other graduate schools. Because accepting courses other than Logotherapy would dilute our instruction, we use only our own core courses and the collateral volumes that we have listed. Of course as knowledge continues to mature, should you find a volume of value that is not on our list, simply report it to your Don who shall add it to our list. We are committed to granting well earned terminal or pragmatic degrees to be used in the real world of love, labor and leadership rather than in academic settings. We are firmly anchored in the real world of marriages, family satisfaction, worship, careers and personal satisfaction.

WORKING YOUR PLAN

Both our master's and doctoral degree programs require that you begin with the same two introductory elements -- Viktor Frankl's first generation book - MAN'S SEARCH FOR MEANING which supplies the basics and our second generation course, YOUR SEARCH FOR A MEANINGFUL LIFE that serves on a twenty-first century level.

After completing our introductory course, YOUR SEARCH FOR A MEANINGFUL LIFE, you shall respond to it with the three or four page report to our Registrar who will then assign an academic Don to be available via email, chat or voicemail in order to offer any assistance you may need.

Next, read Frankl's MAN'S SEARCH FOR MEANING, and write your two or three page report and email the report to us via dee@fulfillmentforum.com or upload your report to your secure SkyDrive folder which we assign to you.

These two books and the two short reports comprise the first segment or course of your graduate program in Logotherapy and shall be so recorded in your permanent electronic and hard copy record by our Registrar and reported to the State Of Minnesota Department of Education for their permanent records that can be retrieved in perpetuity.

After completing and reporting on the two required introductory Logotherapy primers by DeVille and Frankl, the MS program consists of five more core curriculum mega-courses as the body of the master's degree. When our introductory course, YOUR SEARCH is counted - this brings the total core courses to six in number for the master's work. As you progress through your five elective Logotherapy segments from the eighteen mega-course core curriculum, you shall also select two collateral classics to read with each of the five core volumes you have chosen or shall choose. Thus, the collateral books to be read and reported for the MS are total ten in number in addition to Frankl's primer -- MAN'S SEARCH. As you study and do the exercises and projects and take notes -- you shall choose a topic of personal interest for your thesis and gather the information and your responses needed to write at least a thirty page paper. You can contact your academic Don via email should you need information or assistance. Of course, the above instruction is moot should you choose the practicum. In that case you shall spend twenty hours for the MS or thirty hours for the PhD serving some group and applying your new Logotherapy concepts. It is probably best to serve some segment of society gradually rather than all at once as on a weekend or a retreat.

To earn your PhD degree, seven core courses shall be completed and reported on after the Introductory YOUR SEARCH and MAN'S SEARCH have been completed. Two collateral volumes of your own choosing are required for each core course, leading to a total of fourteen classic volumes to be read and briefly reported on to your Don.

These are rigorous programs but we guarantee that you shall emerge with a far more complete and pragmatic battery of knowledge and wisdom about Logotherapy than any traditional graduate school offers. You shall carry real fire-power for your personal and professional use when you complete this Oxford University style graduate degree approach.

We suggest that each degree scholar arise an hour or so earlier four mornings each week and invest that time in study and thought when she or he is alert and energetic. By investing one monthly Saturday morning of four additional hours, the masters can be earned in about twelve months while the doctorate will require from fourteen to sixteen months. If you take good notes and save your best ideas while progressing through your Logotherapy core and collateral materials, the short reports and even your final thesis or dissertation will virtually write themselves without returning to the courses and pouring over what you have already covered. If you apply the Logotherapy constructs during a practicum, you will develop some very good skills that shall benefit you for life.

WHEN YOU READ COMPREHENSIVELY AND TAKE NOTES WELL AND PRACTICE ENOUGH TO ABSORB AND CONVEY SOUND CONCEPTS - YOU REALLY SHALL GO INTO THE WORLD WITH YOUR WELL EARNED GRADUATE DEGREE FOLLOWING A YEAR OR SO OF PART TIME AT HOME STUDY THAT AVOIDS ALL THE TRADITIONAL GRADUATE SCHOOL CONFLICTS, COMPETITION AND THREE FOURTHS OR MORE OF THE COST.

This is pretty much all there is to it. Invest one hundred twenty to two hundred hours over twelve to sixteen months, studying this world-class work about people in search of significance like yourself and the women and men whom you love, labor with and lead. Complete the core exercises and projects to better focus your increasing knowledge and wisdom and email or upload your responses and reactions after taking notes for a final summation about or practice exercises at what we sincerely believe is the finest form of living we have ever seen.

Of course -- as with every good thing in life -- the effort we invest in our lives and careers determine how much we benefit from them. If you need more information, contact us by Toll-Free voicemail at 1-888-611-5531 or email at dee@fulfillmentforum.com and we shall help in any way we can. Keep your eye on the prize that symbolizes your extremely valuable new approach to life, love and career.

Choose your five MS or seven PhD elective courses from the eighteen mega-courses described below.

OUR CORE CURRICULUM

Never in the history of psychology has any psychospiritual breakthrough become so valuable to so many persons as the life rewarding concepts and techniques of Action Logotherapy. Viktor Frankl's knowledge and wisdom far surpasses Sigmund Freud's Psychoanalysis, Alfred Adler's Personal Psychology, B. F. Skinner's Behaviorism or Eric Berne's Transactional Analysis. We have learned from our personal experience while conducting many classes for thousands of committed learners in colleges, universities, companies, faith communities and many professional groups -- that this practical aspect of Existential Psychology shall be of utmost value to you and your family, company, faith community and society.

Never before has any graduate program focused so intently and so comprehensively on the science and art of lifestyle Logotherapy. We have no athletic teams, no Olympic swimming pool and not a single ancient ivy covered building. We have no arts and crafts classes with which to spend a few empty hours. We offer no grand costume balls and host no fraternity parties with fast flowing kegs.

What we do offer you are the most complete and challenging core Logotherapy courses available anywhere -- well reinforced by scores of world class scholars who offer our degree candidates the opportunity to pick their brains and share their wisdom for your personal and communal benefit. You will finish your distance learning experience with us with the knowledge and wisdom needed to make your life come out wisely and well.

These letter size, single space pages average about 500 words per page which loads each superior course with a vast amount of valuable content.

Many of these classics can be found and downloaded from the vast library collections of Google, Ask Yahoo, MSN and other search engines. Most are available in city and university libraries or information centers at little or no cost. Many libraries, even when they do not have a book you want, can find it for you at some other library. Some can be purchased used or as reprints for a few dollars on Ebay.

OUR PROMISE - We accept persons of all nationalities, creeds and races with a bachelor's degree or the equivalent in credit hours or with appropriate career shaping experience, because life cares neither where you learn nor how you gain wisdom. Society simply wants you to perform wisely and well -- while we have the where-with-all to bring a major love, labor and leadership advantage into your life and career. Our programs are especially valuable to intellectually ambitious and busy persons who are already progressing through their educations or professions with confidence and skill or who are successfully engaged with other persons. We eagerly educate women and men who desire the additional advantage of a well earned graduate degree and the diploma and certification which represents your potent knowledge with increased effectiveness on the job and in the society.

OF COURSE, SOCIETY WANTS YOU TO --

DEMONSTRATE YOUR ABILITY TO DEVELOP AN ACTION PLAN,

CARRY YOUR PLAN THROUGH TO A SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION,

MANAGE YOUR SOUND RESULTS WITH GRACE AND GENEROSITY.

Your sophisticated Logotherapy degree will reflect your ability to unfold a significant vision, develop a vehicle through which to reach meaningful goals and work hard and smart enough to bring that vision to fruition. Your diploma, transcripts, certification and letters of commendation shall be your valid symbols of the knowledge and wisdom our programs make available to scholars. They reveal your commitment but even more, verify the battery of skills you have mastered for yourself, about love, labor and leadership and about the persons with whom you must both compete and cooperate through the tasks in which you invest your life and career.

Choose from the core courses we offer and consider the existential collateral volumes from the world-class scholars of the last century and a half -- from Soren Kierkegaard and Sigmund Freud to those still working such as Wayne Dyer and Ric Warren. The benefits of using such a fabulous library are too many to be easily reported to you.

When you choose what you need from the eighteen superior core segments, through the master's and doctoral DEVILLE LOGOTHERAPY LEARNING CENTER degree programs, they are reinforced by the scores of collateral works from world class authors, in order to increase each graduate's span of expertise.

If at any time you decide for any reason that you want to change from a previously selected course to another, you have only to inform us and ask by title for the replacement.

We believe that you shall find this educational approach extremely valuable -- because Viktor Frankl's LOGOTHERAPY is the greatest advance in psychospiritual wisdom since Freud and Adler revolutionized our knowledge of the human psyche more than a century ago. It may even be the best since Jesus of Nazareth was the first and foremost Logotherapy counselor. We can indeed teach you how to live a life filled with purpose and to find consistent meaning in your marriage, child rearing practices and professional career -- despite the painful mass neurosis of meaninglessness or a lack of purpose that afflicts multitudes of men and women in our challenging era of secular failures and incessant and troubling change. Literally millions of unhappy and restless souls report that they feel stuck in life as they suffer often from the existential frustration that is caused by the secular and meaningless lifestyle tolerated by so many persons. And you can certainly enhance your life, marriage, family and career by learning how to consistently;

ORGANIZE ALL YOUR POWERS ALONG LINES OF EXCELLENCE,

MANAGE INTERPERSONAL RELATIONSHIPS WISELY AND WELL,

SHARE THE REWARDS OF ACHIEVEMENT WITH YOUR SUPPORTERS,

CREATE A COMMITTED COMMUNITY OF COOPERATIVE MEN AND WOMEN.

YOUR BENEFITS -- We offer you the most complete Logotherapy education available anywhere -- which can be integrated into each participant's schedule at an affordable cost. We do get right to the point of teaching great methods of achieving personally and professionally by offering each degree candidate a virtual Cosmos of knowledge and wisdom with which to develop a meaningful life and career. Each participant can emerge from his or her efforts in a year or not much more in spare time effort with the personal and career advantages of --

A POWERFUL CURRICULUM -- Our approach not only reflects the knowledge and wisdom of Professors Frankl and DeVille in many crucial aspects of life -- but puts you within the very fertile minds of many world class existential scholars. Our Logotherapy courses are indeed of the very highest quality.

PSYCHOLOGICAL KNOWLEDGE -- This program enables you to focus and utilize your maturing intellectual and psychospiritual powers directly on the greatest benefit for yourself, your family, your faith community and career center. Once again, we recommend that you see for yourself the level of excellence we are offering you by completing your gratis copy of YOUR SEARCH FOR A MEANINGFUL LIFE.

SPIRITUAL WISDOM -- This double tiered approach toward meaning and belonging gives you the ability to make the most valuable decisions, the wisest choices you can make, when and where they are needed in a wide variety of settings.

EASE OF LEARNING -- Our on - line method gives you the ability to make the best possible use of your time and finances for yourself, your family and your professional mission in the evolving stages of your life and career. Everything you need is at your fingertips or available through the Internet or library -- except for a spiral notebook, a pen and an Internet connection.

FREEDOM TO CHOOSE -- Do it your way -- select the five additional masters or seven doctoral post-introductory courses from the eighteen volume core curriculum and ten or fourteen collateral volumes that meet your needs from the scores of great books. You can mix or match them for yourself.

REASONABLE TUITION -- We charge about one third or less of the expense of an e - mail or distance learning degree from a traditional school. The entire cost for a master's program is $2,000 that will be discounted $300 if paid in full within the first month or so after enrollment. The doctorate fee is $3,000 with the $500 discount for payment in full. We also accept $500 dollars down with a monthly payment until the bill is paid in its entirety. And we make arrangements for group fees when three students or more form a study group in person or as a Logotherapy chat room. This is about a twelve month commitment for the masters and sixteen months or the doctorate. We also help our students get tuition assistance and rebates by supplying information packets and letters or phone calls to employers, continuing education committees, school boards and others who will benefit from your career growth.

EVIDENCE OF ACHIEVEMENT -- This includes transcripts, attractive diplomas, letters of recommendation, professional certification and especially a powerful positive attitude and high expectation of competence and successful service.

PERSONAL COMMITMENT – We shall not deceive you. Acquiring a well earned Logotherapy degree and all the benefits it offers, is not easy. It requires hours of reading and thought, the writing of reports and discussions in chat rooms, At times the work may seem to draw blood. But the content is always interesting and personally valuable. A sound study course from our curriculum empowers you the graduate with the knowledge and wisdom needed to best serve yourself, family, church, company and society. It can be earned by investing eight or so hours each week in study for twelve to sixteen months. And then you shall benefit from great Logotherapy existential knowledge and wisdom for the rest of your life.

WE DO LOGOTHERAPY EXTRAORDINARILY WELL
